This MONTH'S highlights ON HOME Box Office

Up FRONT

Do You Agree? The most popular Home Box Office motion picture feature of all time, according to a recent Trendex phone survey, is Serpico, with The Way We Were a close second. The engrossing true story of an undercover cop struggling to expose corruption in the New York City Police Department, first presented on HBO in October, was viewed by 83 per cent of the more than 200 subscribers interviewed in the mid-November survey and rated "one of the best" by over 80 per cent of those. Barbra Streisand and Robert Redford in The Way We Were had a cumulative audience of 80 per cent.

Big Sports Month—The New York Islanders of the National Hockey League join the HBO sports beat in January with Nassau Coliseum games against the Atlanta Flames on Jan. 11 and St. Louis Blues on the 14th. The Milwaukee Bucks, frequent network visitors, are spotlighted against the Golden State Warriors in a National Basketball Association game Jan. 16. For track and field fans, the indoor season begins with Madison Square Garden's annual big one, the Millrose Games, on the 31st, and hockey buffs may get a kick out of comparing the pros' brand of play with collegiate prospects in the Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference tourney Jan. 3 and 5.

And now SOMETHING SPECIAL

—Can a film only five minutes long win an Oscar? Indeed it can, and millions of Americans viewing the Academy Award festivities hear listings of the best short subjects. But there's seldom a chance to see these mini-masterpieces, or those winning international honors in Cannes, Berlin, Milan or Moscow. This month, HBO begins a series of these short award winning works under the title "Something Special". You'll find them among our regular nightly program listings, and for your convenience each one is designated by a special logotype:☆

Included in January: "Why Man Creates", winner of 35 awards for graphics designer Saul Blass; "Blake", filmmaker Bill Mason's beautiful tribute to bush pilot Blake James; "Dream of Wild horses", a French award winner; "Gallery", art history of the world compressed into over 8,000 images in six minutes, and a whole group of "Mr. Rossi" shorts by Italian humorist Bruno Bozzetto—delightfully funny.

HBO also pays tribute to the ski season in January with a series on "Ski —'75" patterned on last year's popular network features, and anyone who appreciates adventure (who doesn't?) will find "Free Life", the chronicle of a balloon voyage, a real treat.

PREVIEWS

Robert Redford and Mia Farrow as ill-fated lovers in lavish screen version of F. Scott Fitzgerald's novel about idle rich in 1920's. Jazz Age recreated by use of elaborate settings with authentic costumes and music of period. Paramount. PG. (144 mins)

"... graceful and intelligent complement to the novel ... eminently worth savoring."
New York Times

Blazing Saddles

Mel Brooks directed, co-authored and stars in one of whackiest shoot-em-ups ever filmed. Superb performances by Cleavon Little, Gene Wilder, Harvey Korman and Madeline Kahn. Warner Brothers. R. (93 minutes)

"... convulsingly hilarious burlesque of the Old West ..."
Cue Magazine

THE TERMINAL MAN

Adapted from Michael Crichton's best-selling novel. George Segal has computer surgically implanted in brain to control unpredictable fits of rage, but operation backfires. Joan Hackett co-stars as Segal's fearful doctor. Warner Brothers. PG. (105 mins)

"The oops-sorry school of medicine ..."
New York Times

The Golden Voyage of Sinbad

Fantasy-adventure for all ages, starring John Philip Law, Caroline Munro and a marvelous assortment of mythical monsters and creatures. Special effects by past master of wizardry Ray Harryhausen. Columbia Pictures. G. (105 minutes)

"Go out for popcorn and you will probably miss something good."
Time Magazine

THE LAST DETAIL

Superbly funny chronicle of two beer-guzzling, hell-raising career sailors escorting teenager to Navy prison. Jack Nicholson won Cannes Film Festival Best Actor award as tough-talking shore patrolman. Columbia Pictures. R. (105 mins)

"A gem of a film, a 'road' story in the best sense . . ."
New York Magazine

UPTOWN SATURDAY NIGHT

Two buddies try to retrieve winning lottery ticket stolen while visiting local gambling house. All-star cast includes Bill Cosby, Harry Belafonte, Flip Wilson, Richard Pryor and Sidney Poitier, who also directed. Warner Brothers. PG. (103 mins)

"... noisy, crazy, funny and overstuffed with fine comic talent."

Christian Science Monitor

ENTER THE DRAGON

Last film made by Bruce Lee, master of martial arts, and several cuts above usual shoddy productions in this popular Oriental action genre. Loaded with bone-crushing violence but fun if taken in "feel—don't think" frame of mind. Warner Brothers. R. (98 minutes)

*"... expertly made and well-meshed;
moves like lightning and brims with color."*
New York Times
